Reclosure Application Form: Guidance

Where a high volume of material, or issues of high profile are being considered for reclosure, please contact The National Archives first, as a paper may be required for presentation to the Advisory Council on National Records and Archives.

Different series can all go on one form, there does not need to be a new form for each series. However there should be one series, piece or item per line. Applications should be in series and then piece number order.

Dates of Advisory Council meetings, and the deadlines for completed applications to be submitted, are advertised each year by The National Archives.

Completed applications should be sent to scheduleapplications@nationalarchives.gsi.gov.uk

Departments cannot transfer records to The National Archives until the closure has been agreed.
